MRS. HUTCHINS FILES MOTION. Asks Probate Court to Strike Out Plea of Lee Hutchins.

Probate Court a motion to strike out the plea of the bar of the statute of limitations filed by Lee Hutchins in answer to her offer to probate the 1908 will of her husband. The son pointed out that by waiting more than three years after her husband's death before presenting a petition for probate the widow had lost her right to do so.

Mrs. Hutchins, in her motion filed by Attorney J. C. Gittings, calls attention to a decision of the court that she could not offer the second will of her husband while the appeal was pending from the decision of a jury breaking the will of latest date. This action by the court would have stayed the running of the statute, it is claimed, even if it applied in the case of an executrix. Attorney Gittings claims, however, that the statute has no application to the filing or probating of a will. the plea of the bar of the statute of President Wilson Is Expected to Greet United Confederate Veterans.

President Wilson is expected to review the grand parade of the United Confederate Veterans in the spring, according to the opinions expressed at a meeting of Camp 171, U. C. The meeting here, many of the veterans believe, will bring out the largest attendance in the history of the United Confederate Veterans within recent years.

Another meeting of the camp is to be headed Tuesday avening when furnituded to thave end to the will be treated as a mere day dream by those who believe war an indestructible character of human and call it to exercise."

This declaration is contained in a feature article in the Daily News, written by Alfred G. Gardiner, editor of the newspaper, who, in emphasizing the indebtedness of the entente allies to the United States in the matter of munitions, says:

"We refoice in the election of the most sagacious statesman American politics has thrown up since Lincoln. the physically unfit are eliminated, together with municipal and relief organization officials. Those without regular employment are the first selected for deportation.

The principal object of the deportation, it was said, appears to be to secure skilled workers. Men regularly employed have been enrolled from several communes. A large number was taken at Jamappes from factories which were self supporting and bank employes were impressed at Mons. The relief organization in Luxemburg province was carrying on public works and giving employment to many men, but the works stopped a month ago and the laborers thus rendered unemployed are being deported.

Despite the statements credited to German officers that the deported men will not be employed in military work, the Belgians are declared to fear the contrary as it has been reported that large bodies of men have been taken to northern France and employed in cutting timbers for trenches and that others in northern Belgium have been forced to dig trenches.

Muscle power accomplishes its utmost when it uses the wormdrive—so does motor power

Several hundred times his own weight a man can lift with a little hand-screw—a jack.

Applying the same sort of leverage, the worm-drive of a Packard motor truck makes the utmost use of the great power which the engine develops.

It takes hold without slip or jerk or lost motion. It works silently that provides continuous, perfect lubrication. It gives more miles

It keeps on economizing because its efficiency never falls off. It is practically wearproof and fool-proof.
